

Less repetition. More understanding.

A tiny lecture about making room to think.

12

pages to explore

Some pages repeat.

Some add an idea.

Some changes must stay.

RECALL

Try explaining it without looking.

A disappearing mark matters

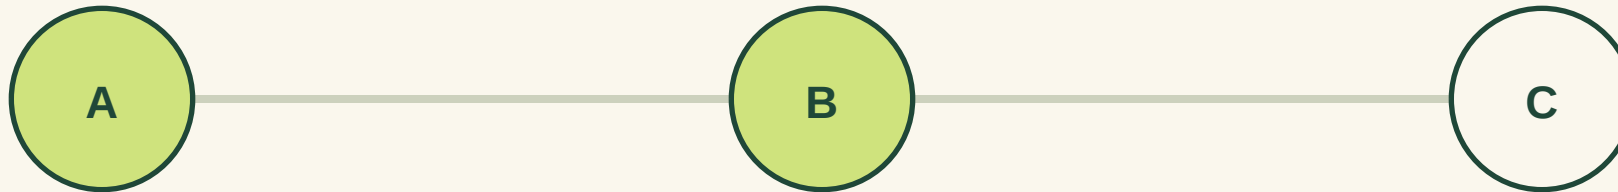

Same words. Different visual information. Keep both states.

A visual change can carry the whole lesson.

Your attention is a limited resource.

Use fewer pages when the ideas are truly the same.

Review the differences.

Keep what carries meaning.

Let the repetition go.
