

How to learn with less noise

SLIDEPRUNE / NOTES

FIELD NOTES / 01 / START

Less repetition. More understanding.

A tiny lecture about making room to think.

12

pages to explore

Some pages repeat.

Some add an idea.

Some changes must stay.

SLIDEPRUNE / ORIGINAL DEMO

NOTES

Original p. 2

FIELD NOTES / 02 / BUILD

A useful learning loop

An idea grows one step at a time.

1

NOTICE

Make the main idea visible.

2

CONNECT

Connect it to something you know.

3

RECALL

Try explaining it without looking.

SLIDEPRUNE / ORIGINAL DEMO

NOTES

Original p. 5

How to learn with less noise

SLIDEPRUNE / NOTES

FIELD NOTES / 03 / LOOK CLOSELY

A disappearing mark matters

Same words. Different visual information. Keep both states.

A

B

C

A visual change can carry the whole lesson.

SLIDEPRUNE / ORIGINAL DEMO

Original p. 6

FIELD NOTES / 03 / LOOK CLOSELY

A disappearing mark matters

Same words. Different visual information. Keep both states.

A

B

C

A visual change can carry the whole lesson.

SLIDEPRUNE / ORIGINAL DEMO

Original p. 7

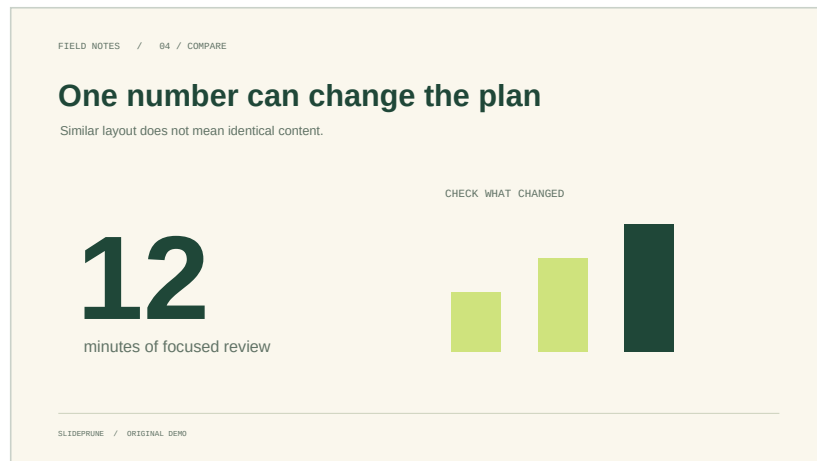

NOTES

NOTES

How to learn with less noise

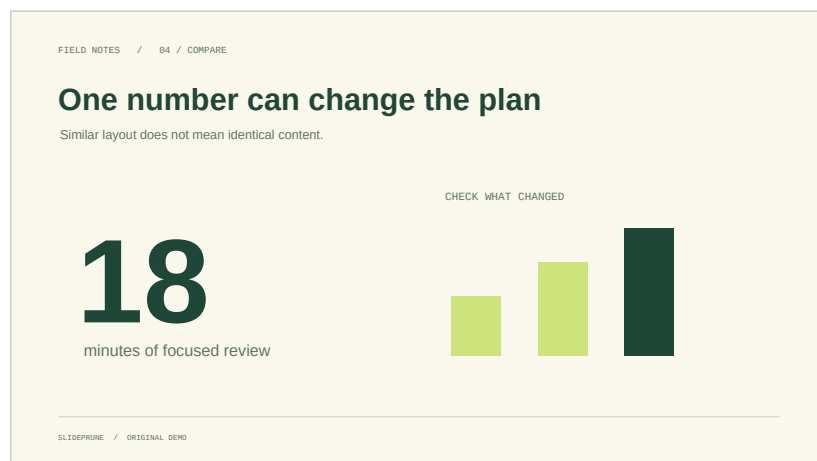

SLIDEPRUNE / NOTES

NOTES

Original p. 8

NOTES

Original p. 9

How to learn with less noise

SLIDEPRUNE / NOTES

FIELD NOTES / 05 / KEEP THE SIGNAL

Your attention is a limited resource.

Use fewer pages when the ideas are truly the same.

Review the differences.

Keep what carries meaning.

Let the repetition go.

SLIDEPRUNE / ORIGINAL DEMO

NOTES

Original p. 11

NOTES

FIELD NOTES / 06 / TAKEAWAY

Make a handout you can think on.

A clean page is only useful when the important details survive.

● Review each suggestion

● Restore anything you need

● Leave room for your own notes

SLIDEPRUNE / ORIGINAL DEMO

Original p. 12